

Pathways to Peace

8-10 March 2019

Hinsley Hall,

Leeds LS6 2BX

A joint conference from the Anglican Pacifist Fellowship, Fellowship of Reconciliation, and the Baptist, Methodist and URC Peace Fellowships

Featuring the Shadow Minister for Peace and Disarmament and peace activist Rev Dan Woodhouse

Our keynote speaker is Fabian Hamilton, MP for Leeds North East and Shadow Minister for Peace and Disarmament since 2016. We will also hear from Rev. Dan Woodhouse, a Methodist minister who in 2017 entered an air base to disarm warplanes destined to bomb Yemen.

What can you expect from the weekend?

Through talks, workshops and prayer, we will focus on the concrete actions everyone can take for peace. We hope participants will come away filled with hopefulness and ideas of what to do next.

Programme information will be added as we confirm more speakers, so keep an eye on the conference website for.org.uk/pathwaystoppeace

Timings: The conference will start at 5pm on Friday (dinner included) and end after lunch on Sunday. We hope you can join us for the whole weekend. However, the theme and programme will still be coherent and complete if you're only able to come for Saturday.

Transport: Hinsley Hall is around two miles from Leeds city centre, and less than one mile from the nearest train station.

Social media for the event: @forpeacemaker and use #Pathwaystoppeace

Pathways to Peace is a joint conference between the Anglican Pacifist Fellowship, Fellowship of Reconciliation, and the Baptist, Methodist and URC Peace Fellowships. We welcome people of all faiths and none, and no previous connections to the groups involved is required.
