

Our Lady Queen of Palestine....pray for us...
(Her Feast Day is celebrated on the last Sunday in October)

‘God of Comfort, send your Spirit to encompass all those whose lives are torn apart by violence and death in Israel and Palestine.
You are the Advocate of the oppressed and the One whose eye is on the sparrow.
Let arms reach out in healing, rather than aggression.
Let hearts mourn rather than militarize.’

Dear Friends,

Two weeks on and it is nothing but bad news in Palestine. There are so many articles out there, and the news is changing pretty much hourly, that it has been hard to keep up. I have tried to include a diverse selection of pieces.

We have also had some very sad news amongst our own. Anne Peacey our Chair writes: -

NJPN is very sorry to share the sad news that Geoff, our Administrator, is seriously ill in hospital. Please could we all pray for Geoff, his family and his many close friends. Thank you.

(Very appropriate today as it is the Feast of Our Lady of Palestine, and Geoff spent several holidays out there seeing friends and helping with the olive planting/harvesting).

Details of our Networking Evening on the 21st November are below, and we are hoping that as many of you as possible will be attending. It will be your chance to discuss your burning issues, and share your successes with others.

Our next e-bulletin should be out around the 12th November. Any articles for inclusion will need to be received by the 10th November please.

God bless,

Sharon

ACTION OF THE WEEK*

Destitution in the UK 2023

The Joseph Rowntree Foundation writes: =

This study, the fourth in the Destitution in the UK series, reveals approximately 3.8 million people experienced destitution in 2022, including around one million children. This is almost two and a half times the number in 2017, and nearly triple the number of children. There is an urgent need for action to tackle destitution in the UK.

There has been a shameful increase in the level of destitution in the UK, with a growing number of people struggling to afford to meet their most basic physical needs to stay warm, dry, clean and fed. This has deep and profound impacts on health, mental health and people's prospects; it also puts a strain on already overstretched services.

Nearly three-quarters of people experiencing destitution are in receipt of social security payments, further evidence of benefit inadequacy. Ad-hoc support from the Government, first during the pandemic, and now to help with the cost of living, has not helped the rising level of destitution. We urgently need a bold and ambitious programme of action to address destitution and its corrosive impacts.

As advocates of justice and peace we ask you to read the above recommendations, with a view to them giving you ideas for questioning our local and national representatives about how they would act to solve these problems.

Thank you!

NEWS AND COMMENT

1. NJPN Networking Evening

We previously mentioned that our Networking Day on the 18th November has been cancelled, and that we invite you to attend CAFOD's Faith in Action (Fighting for a Better World with CAFOD) event instead. Our rescheduled event is as follows: -

An invitation

Tuesday 21st November 7.30 – 9pm. An online event

What are the burning justice and peace issues that keep you awake at night?

This will be an opportunity to share concerns, ideas, and suggestions for action.

An opportunity to network without having to travel...

If you are interested in attending, please email Sharon on the E-bulletin account - ebulletin@justice-and-peace.org.uk

2. Palestine/Israel (includes Actions)

A selection of the most important news coming out of Palestine and Israel, with grateful thanks to Ann Farr of Pax Christi, who is in contact with friends out there.

Breaking: Statement from Gaza Ministry of Education

This was shared on X (formerly known as Twitter) this morning by Sulaiman Ahmed (an investigative journalist): - "This year's class period has officially ended due to the deaths of most of the students."

I have been trying to find out if this tragic post is real, or just one that is doing the rounds. I haven't yet found an actual statement online or through a news agency from the Gaza Ministry of Education, but real or not, it is a very sobering statement.

Action - Seek a ceasefire and to end Israeli occupation of the West Bank and Gaza Strip

The Balfour Project write: - We want the Government to seek a ceasefire and also seek to address the root cause of the current conflict by promoting dialogue and advocating for the end of Israeli occupation of the West Bank and Gaza Strip.

This war has the potential to spill over into neighbouring lands and that would only worsen the humanitarian situation. Palestinians have suffered from occupation and blockades for many years now. I urge the Government to pursue a just and peaceful resolution to the current conflict. With peace comes stability for all of us.

Sign it here.

Gaza: Christian leaders demand immediate ceasefire to deliver aid safely

In a similar way to above, Christian Aid, along with 20 church leaders and Christian organisations, are demanding a ceasefire on humanitarian grounds.

Full details and a link to sign are available from Independent Catholic News.

Patriarch Pizzaballa sends letter to faithful of Jerusalem

Vatican News writes: - In his pastoral letter released on Tuesday, Patriarch Pierbattista Pizzaballa spoke to the Catholic faithful of his diocese about the “difficult and painful” period they are enduring.

He said people are inundated with “images of horrors” that have “made pain, frustration, and anger explode within us.”

After war broke out on 7 October following a Hamas militant incursion into Israel, Pope Francis called for a Day of Prayer, Fasting, and Penance on Tuesday, 17 October.

Patriarch Pizzaballa expressed his gratitude for the Pope’s initiative and the prayers of people around the world, and invited everyone to renew their prayers for peace on Friday, 27 October, for a second iteration of the Day of Prayer for Peace.

“It is perhaps the main thing we Christians can do at this time: pray, do penance, intercede. For this, we thank the Holy Father from the bottom of our hearts,” he said.

You can read his pastoral letter on the above link.

You may remember that a couple of weeks ago, Cardinal Pizzaballa offered himself in exchange for Israeli children taken by Hamas and held in Gaza. That story is available through Reuters.

Second Statement from Pax Christi International

Pax Christi International writes: - In the wake of the ongoing violence that erupted on October 7th, 2023, in the Holy Land, Pax Christi International has issued a second statement urging for an immediate ceasefire and to guarantee humanitarian support to the affected civilians.

Read the full statement in English here.

CAFOD Statement on airstrike on St Porphyrios Church hall in Gaza

CAFOD released the following statement on the 20th October: - We are shocked to hear from our partner at Caritas Jerusalem that a staff member along with her child and husband were killed when the hall adjacent to the St Porphyrios Church in Gaza was struck last night. Her sister and two children were also among the casualties. The hall provided refuge for 411 people and five Caritas staff members were present.

We extend our heartfelt condolences to the grieving families and all those injured and affected.

You can read the full statement here.

Shock, rage, increasing unease: UK's Jewish community wrestles with response to war

Some weeks ago, before this conflict began, I attended an interfaith event where a Jewish man said that just because they were Jews didn't mean that they supported what was going on in Israel.

This article from The Guardian shows a divided community. Many were in support of Israel when Hamas attacked, but now, with innocent people, and especially children, being killed in Gaza, there seems to be a lot of confusion.

The Guardian quote Na'amod, an organisation of left-wing Jews, that campaigns against the Israeli occupation of Palestinian territory and the "crimes of apartheid". "We will not let our grief be weaponised to justify genocide,” Na’amod wrote on X. You can read the full article here.

Stop Praying for Gaza

Rev. Dr. Mitri Raheb (Founder and President of Dar al-Kalima University College of Arts and Culture in Bethlehem in the occupied West Bank) writes this interesting piece, published by Medium.

Not only is he in touch with people in Gaza and can report on the eye-witness accounts they have given him, but he relays the fact that they need more than our prayers.

It makes for very sad and thought-provoking reading.

Action - Resources for your parish or group

What can be done, apart from pray and think about the people in this troubled area? If you want to highlight the war in your parish or community, check out the Pax Christi UK website, who have a number of Prayer Cards that can be used in situations of war.

Also, to support the Palestinian Christians, why not think about buying some Palestinian goods.

Actions for Peace in the Holy Land

Take action today by looking at ten ideas that Eye Witness Blogs have on their website. They say 'Act now for justice, equality and an end to the military occupation of Palestine'.

Eye Witness Blogs are from EAPPI UK & Ireland (The World Council of Churches (WCC) Ecumenical Accompaniment Programme in Palestine and Israel). They share the eyewitness stories of Palestinians and Israelis and advocate for justice, equality and an end to the military occupation of Palestine.

Fuel, water and food deprivation used as collective punishment

I will finish with these sobering words from the United Nations, reported on by The Balfour Project.

Philippe Lazzarini, Head of the UNRWA (United Nations Relief and Works Agency), gave a Press Conference at the UNRWA Headquarters in East Jerusalem on Friday.

He starts off: - As we speak, people in Gaza are dying. They are dying only from bombs and strikes. Soon, many more will die from the consequences of siege imposed on the Gaza Strip. Basic services are crumbling.

Medicine is running out. Food and water are running out. The streets of Gaza have started overflowing with sewage.

He goes on to point out that: we should avoid conveying the message that a few trucks a day means the siege is lifted for humanitarian aid. It is not. The current system in place is geared to fail.

What is needed is meaningful and uninterrupted aid flow. To succeed, we need a humanitarian ceasefire to ensure this aid reaches those in need. This is not too much to ask for.

Philippe talks about the colleagues that they have lost already in Gaza and the fact that civil order is collapsing.

His final words are: - Finally, as Commissioner-General, I intend to visit Gaza, to express solidarity and amplify the voice of the communities and our staff. Gaza is where I was when I started my career as a humanitarian more than 30 years ago. This is where I need to be today.

Please read it here.

3. Climate/Environment (includes an Event and Actions)

Event - Financing a Liveable Future Conference - Tuesday 7th November

Financing a Liveable Future Conference

Church Investment in Climate Solutions

Tuesday, 7th November 2023
10am - 4pm

KEYNOTE SPEAKER:
LORNA GOLD, CEO FAITHINVEST

Dr Lorna Gold has written a blog about why it is really important for churches to take action, especially in light of the recent publication of Laudate Deum. You can read it here.

To attend the Conference, which takes place at Friends House, Euston Road, London, you can email julia.corcoran@operationnoah.org or pippa.arnold@faithinvest.org. They are offering tickets for £20 each to members and friends of NJPN. You can also get tickets through Eventbrite under the concessionary price.

Are bioplastics part of the solution or part of the problem?

An interesting article by Everyday Plastic, talking about the pros and cons of the different types of 'bioplastic' which are supposed to be more environmentally friendly.

If you wondered why not everyone uses supposedly 'compostable' bags, this article will make things clearer...

Actions from Global Justice Now

In their email that I received on Friday, Global Justice Now had two actions - one was to ask the Foreign Secretary to take a stand at the emergency UN Loss and Damage meeting next week, and the second was to ask the Foreign Secretary to stand up for climate justice in these discussions.

I thought it would just be easier to add a link to their Newsletter, which gives all of the details. You can read it here.

Ask your MP to sign the Stop Burning Trees Pledge

Biofuelwatch write: - Did you know that the UK Government is using our energy bills to fund tree burning in UK power stations like Drax in Yorkshire and Lynemouth in Northumberland? This wood burning is devastating forests, wildlife and communities around the world, whilst also making the climate crisis worse.

Please write to your MP asking them to sign the Stop Burning Trees pledge - to call for an end to subsidies for tree burning in UK power stations.

Let's talk about Allotments...

Greenpeace write the following: - There are almost 175,000 applications on the UK's allotment waiting list - with some people waiting 15 years. But did you know that we have the legal right to them?

That's why two weeks ago artists and volunteers, led by Dr. JC Niala, took a living artwork to the government to give those people a voice. Then using the same artwork, they reclaimed land from Tesco and the industrial food system to demonstrate how land can be transformed for community food growing.

They have shared this photograph showing the artwork, and there is a video called The Waiting List, which tells of their project, the rights people have to an allotment. and the work that they have done to reclaim land from Tesco.

Greenpeace say: - The artwork taken to the government and then used to reclaim land from Tesco is a living artwork. It's made from seed paper and embedded with ash from the Amazon, as a reminder of the destruction the industrial food system is causing. It is also embedded with brown mustard, white clover, sunflowers, red fescue, and rye grass seeds, and specifically chosen to help heal the soil and make it suitable to grow food.

You can get more information by going to The Waiting List's website.

Press Release from Green Christian

Green Christian have sent out this Press Release : - 'Climate change is changing ministry, finds Green Christian'

They write: - The existential challenge of climate change is having a growing impact on the vocations and beliefs of those in Christian ministry, reports Green Christian. The environmental charity has been providing support since 2021 to clergy and others grappling with the emotional, pastoral, spiritual and moral impacts of the climate crisis on individuals and communities. Many clergy feel unprepared for ministry and leadership in a context of increasing environmental anxiety and destabilisation. The charity is responding through its "Cloud and Fire" programme, of which a third intake begins in January 2024.

Event - Southern Dioceses Environment Network (SDEN)

The next meeting of SDEN will be on Monday 13th November, 12.45pm - 2pm, online, and will be on the subject of money.

If you want to book your place, please do so through Eventbrite.

Event - Northern Dioceses Environment Group (NDEG)

Mark Wiggin writes: - The next meeting of the Northern Dioceses Environment Group will be on Wednesday 15th November from 12.30pm - 1.45pm. Our guest speaker will be Deacon Gareth Rowe, researcher for Durham University and CAFOD, who will offer us insights into the recent Apostolic Exhortation 'Laudate Deum.' Gareth has also been engaged in writing a paper on Climate and conflict: can Catholic social teaching show us the way through the storm?

It will be a very informative and interesting meeting and I hope that you will be able to join friends and colleagues from the Northern Diocese Environment Group on the day.

For more information and a link to the online meeting, please contact Mark Wiggin: - M.Wiggin@caritassalford.org.uk

4. Refugees/Migrants

Refugees at Home Newsletter

At the start of the war in Ukraine, I had ideas that I would host someone. Well, it was a good job that I didn't as my eldest son decided to change jobs, and moved home from Portsmouth, so I now have a full complement of 'children' in my house (and other animals!).

I do still receive the Refugees at Home newsletter, and this month I saw this plea: The Home Office is still making a huge number of asylum decisions - as many as 5,000 a week - in order to meet its target of clearing the asylum-seeker backlog by the end of the year.

So far, we have only heard of positive decisions, granting people refugee status, but we know that cannot last.

While this is welcome, the eviction of successful refugees onto the street with just 7 days notice definitely is not. Imagine going from living on £9 a week in a Home Office hotel, banned from working or studying and unable to open a bank account, to trying to build your new life in just one week.

It's an impossible expectation, and the result is a huge increase in homelessness amongst refugees. Numbers are so high that lots of our colleague organisations have had to make the difficult decision to close to new referrals. We haven't. But, for example, last Thursday, 61 potential guests applied to us for hosting. 61. In one day.

So, if you were thinking about hosting – even for only three or four weeks – now is the time.

Please see the Refugees at Home website for more information.

5. Fix the Food System News

CAFOD write: - After thousands of CAFOD supporters wrote to both the UK government and the World Bank to show we are standing up for the rights of small farmers to freely use, save and share their seeds, they have started to listen.

Over 70,000 parishioners from 762 parishes have signed in solidarity a letter written by Salina, a small farmer from Bangladesh calling on the World Bank to protect farmers' seed rights.

We have just got back from the World Bank's annual meeting in Morocco where we delivered the letters directly into the hands of the Director on Global Food Practice. And our campaign is working! Following our latest actions, the World Bank agreed to meet with CAFOD representatives in both London and Morocco and have started to look at the issue.

This is an important step forward in this campaign. But we know that big businesses will continue lobbying the World Bank to try to put profits before access to food.

Next year we will continue to strengthen international solidarity and build on what we've achieved this year.

You can watch the video of the letters being handed into the World Bank here.

6. Updated Real Living Wage

Church Action on Poverty report that the Real Living Wage has been updated. It is now £12 per hour, or £13.15 per hour in London.

I have contacted our Diocese and forwarded the link onto them, plus I will be addressing it with our parish.
(stop press...my contact in the Diocese has already confirmed that they are absolutely on top of this - so no one needs to contact the Diocese of Brentwood - but feel free to check with your individual parishes in that area, in case of contract cleaners etc.)

Please contact your Diocese and/or Parish to check that they are aware of this, and make sure that they don't get confused with the Governmental National Living Wage, which is a lot less.

The Church Action on Poverty Briefing is available here.

7. Pact research reveals devastating impact of prison on families and children

Pact, the Prison Advice and Care Trust, have brought out a new report, 'Serving a Hidden Sentence' which documents how families, already on low incomes, are struggling, due to the loss of their partner's income whilst in prison, and the costs of staying in touch.

Theresa Alessandro from Pact has written about the report through ICN, and there is a link to that report as well.

You can read it here.

8. Coming for warmth and staying for the welcome

This article by David Barclay, through Grace + Truth, struck a chord with me. In the next couple of weeks our parish hopes to open up a 'Warm Welcome Space' for a few hours per week on a Friday, offering up a simple lunch of soup and a roll, hot drinks, and some biscuits and possibly cakes.

It is not just those who need the warm space that we want to attract - but those people, some of our parishioners included, who need the company. As it says in the article, this is not just a sticking plaster solution to a deep structural problem; we hope it will be a source of connection and of belonging for those who need it.

The article is available here.

He goes onto say 'A fair and just tax system has the ability to be a mechanism through which we can all contribute to the welfare of our city and ensure all may receive their daily bread. We are all called to speak up for justice and as Paul encourages us in his letter to the Corinthians (2 Corinthians 8:14), to set our eyes on the goal of equality.'

ACTIONS

38. Tell Barclays: Stop funding new oil and gas

Share Action write: - A new Which? Money investigation that set out to find the greenest banks in Britain has ranked Barclays the worst performing UK bank when it comes to environmental issues. This just confirms what we already knew here at ShareAction.

This means that if you (or anyone you know) bank with Barclays - your money may be funding industries like new oil and gas that are causing climate chaos.

Would you join us and help put the pressure on Barclays to fund a greener future instead by adding your name?

The Last Word

39. Song: Take back the Sky

I have borrowed this from Ann Farr, who wrote this piece for ICN. Please read and then watch the video.

Let's pray for peace and brighter days ahead for those children...

Ann writes: - From two Ecumenical Accompanier friends, who served in the same West Bank village as me, at different times. A reminder of this wonderful nonviolent action by the children of Gaza and a song we should use everywhere until the skies are reclaimed for the children."

From Penny Stone ('Penny Sings' is her Facebook page).

"Karen and I have been singing this song for 13 years now. And it feels an important time to share it again. It tells the story of the children of Gaza breaking the world record for flying the most kites in the sky simultaneously, first in 2010 and then again in 2011.

It is still my favourite piece of nonviolent direct action ever - just loads of kids waving at us all and saying 'hi - we're just kids.'

Please see and hear these children and be moved to speak out for an immediate ceasefire and humanitarian aid to be allowed into Gaza. It is so far beyond urgent, and your voice does matter. Please use it."
